A grateful government, proud of its soldier boys who fought, or were ready to fight, in France, now proposes to furnish more enduring proof of its appreciation and interest in their welfare than that expressed by ephemeral cheers, speeches and flag-waving by opening up to them the opportunity to aspire to places in the industrial, commercial and professional spheres, which would be beyond their reach otherwise. If the plan conceived by certain influential military officials is adopted, many of these veterans will soon enter upon a period of voluntary enlistment in the regular army, during which they will be taught any trade or receive the training in any profession or other useful occupation they may elect. It will be up to the boys themselves entirely as to what course they shall pursue, special emphasis being laid upon the point that the proposition does not involve any elements of deferred demobilization. Details have not been worked out, remarks Boston Globe, but just enough progress has been made in the reconstruction of the injured soldiers who have recently come back from overseas to fire countless others with the ambition to better themselves.

Wages! The important thing is to determine the connection between wages and prices so equitably that no one will be able to dispute the justice of the readjustment. The Bankers Trust company of New York city, on the basis of Bradstreet's prices for essential commodities, has made an accurate computation of the living costs to its employees for the last six months, and has added from 30 to 40 per cent to salaries which had previously been advanced three times in the last two years, says Leslie's Weekly. This method should be adopted in all industries and among all corporations. The principle upon which it rests—the purchasing power of the dollar—can be applied as equitably to wages and salaries when living costs decrease as when they increase.

The spread of anarchy shows that no nation can be kept in ignorance and subjection without danger to other nations. No national wrong can be so localized as to be assured of the poison engendered not spreading. That is why it is sometimes the right of civilized powers to interfere with others' domestic business.

"Masculine styles for the ensuing 12 months," says the National Association of Merchant Tailors, "are to be sprightly without being conspicuous, dashing without verging on extremes, youthful in temperament and inspirational," but there's no law compelling you to wear 'em.

The German government is not worrying over the disposal of the ex-emperor. For a man who was virtually a dictator to fall to a depth where nobody in his former empire cares what becomes of him is a blow which his abnormal egotism must find it hard to survive.

DEATH SUMMONS

Mrs. Conrad Kohl passed away at 8 o'clock Monday evening, after nearly three years of patient suffering. Funeral services at the residence, Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Spybey, officiating.

Phones and Divorces.

Statisticians tell us that there is one telephone for every ninth person in this country and that every ninth marriage ends in divorce. The inference is obvious! The truth is out at last! Mr. Bell's ingenious little invention has joined the discredited ranks of the summer hammock, the cocktail, the fox trot, the roller skate, the ice cream parlor and the automobile. It is indeed a sorry state of affairs. One telephone for every ninth person, and on every ninth phone Cupid gets the busy signal forever! All too soon, alas, the wireless telephone will come into general use, and no home will be complete without its own little aerial runabout. O, statistician with thy pen, prepare to write new records then!—Thrill Magazine.

Fish Leathers a Success.

The bureau of fisheries has received a sample lot of leather made from the skins of aquatic animals, including ray, shark, sturgeon, paddlefish and porpoise. It has received also articles made from such leathers, including men's, women's and children's shoes, as well as a belt, wallet, portfolio, brief case, etc. The manufacturers have established stations on the South Atlantic and Gulf coasts where supplies of raw material are obtained, and are producing from such sources a very high grade of leather suitable for nearly every purpose for which leather is used.

The Rabbit Skin Industry.

Rabbit skins from Australia and New Zealand were among the largest offerings in the recent international fur auction at St. Louis. Half a million pounds of Australian skins and 50,000 pounds from New Zealand were sold for a total of $335,000. Prices advanced 25 per cent over quotations last January, according to the official market announcement. The largest lots went to hatters and felt manufacturers.

Pleasure in Making Others Happy.

If those of us who are spending ourselves in the pursuit of empty pleasures stop for a moment and, resolving to look up our ill or less fortunate friends, would go to see them once in a while, or would send some brief message of cheer, we would experience a joy delightfully new and satisfying to ourselves. We would find it far more worth while to bring a smile to lips that have been set with pain or sorrow than to seek pleasures that may amuse us idly for a moment and then, because we are satiated with "good times," interest us no longer.—Exchange.

SHE KNEW HOW TO PLEASE YOU

When she sent those natty summer trousers here to be dry cleaned. For she knew how spic and span they would come back without speck or spot and looking just like new. She knew also that our process, unlike washing does not shrink the goods. That's a point to be remembered.
